Housing ordinance passes

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — An amended, third version of a controversial housing ordinance was passed 7-4 by the City Council Tuesday night.

Besides excluding owner-occupied, single-family residences, the aldermen voted to lower the appeals fee from $100 to $50 and to add a "sunset" clause requiring the council to reconsider the ordinance a year after it goes into effect in April.

FOURTH WARD Alderman Tom Hewlett suggested the $100 fee be taken out of the ordinance. The aldermen's vote to eliminate the fee ended in a 6-6 tie. Mayor Von Dee Cruse broke the tie by voting "no."

An effort failed by 6th Ward Alderman Woody Moad to remove a clause from the proposal requiring that a permit be issued when two or more persons are added to a home.

"As a landlord, I see this (the provision) as a benefit to me," said 3rd Ward Alderman Brett Hanke.

SOME ALDERMEN said the ordinance should be implimented before changes are made.

"Let's pass this ordinance, get the law on the books, and work from there," said 4th Ward Alderwoman Sharon Perjak.

'I feel that many people in the neighborhood and the city — they're scared of this.'
Casmer Skubish

Moad said he has seen "very few times" when the council made amendments to a law after its passed.

"THERE ARE AREAS in it I don't like personally," Moad said. "Overall, the city needs it."

Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer said he couldn't find many differences in the three versions of the ordinance, except for legal language. He said the first draft, that was passed by the aldermen and later vetoed by Cruse, could have been amended.

"I don't feel that concrete about what we have in front of us," said 7th Ward Alderman Mike Modrusic.

MODRUSIC ASKED if three additional people are still needed in the engineering department since the ordinance excludes owner-occupied, single-family residences.

Cruse said these homes comprise a small percentage of occupancy changes and the additional employees would be needed.

First Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish objected to the inspection and permit fees. He said they would affect lower-income residents.

"I FEEL that many people in the neighborhood and the city — they're scared of this," Skubish said.

Voting for the ordinance were Perjak, Whitmer, Moad, Jeff Worthen, Hewlett and Paul Fisk. Voting "no" were Modrusic, Skubish, Judy Whitaker and Pat Schuman. Abstaining were Hanke and Everett Morlen. Cruse voted with the majority.

Annexation petitions withdrawn

GRANITE CITY — Annexation of two unincorporated areas will not be on the April ballot.

City officials Monday withdrew petitions requesting the annexation question be put on the ballot, said Alan Ortbals, the city's director of economic development. A hearing, scheduled for Tuesday at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville, was canceled.

MAYOR VON DEE CRUSE said the withdrawl was caused by confusion about a provision of the Illinois Municipal Code. According to the provision, "... if a majority of the electors favor annexation, the described territory shall ... be a part of the annexing municipality."

"The question was, 'What constitutes a majority of the electors?'" Cruse said.

Ortbals said he was told by Cal Hudson, of the Illinois Board of Elections, that a majority was based on the number of voters in the annexation area in the election.

BUT, City Attorney Mark Goldenberg said a majority of electors meant a majority of residents eligible to vote.

"It made a successful election impossible," Cruse said.

Elections of any type, Cruse said, rarely draw more than 50 percent of the voters to the polls. Local elections often draw 25-30 percent of the electorate, he said.

"WITH THE LAW as it stands now," Cruse said, "we could get a vote of 500 in favor, zero against, and lose because there were 501 voters who stayed home."

Cruse said a future attempt to place the annexation question on the ballot is unlikely.

"All we wanted to do was give the people the right to vote in a democratic fashion," Cruse said.

There is speculation of gold in Madison County. A hog once owned by potato king Charles Schmidt, now owned by prominent farmer Charles Lexow, was slaughtered and a gold nugget was found in its stomach. Some theorize the hog came across the ore while rooting on the Schmidt farm.

Mental Health upgrading supervision at facility

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — Assurances of improved supervision of clients living in a residential facility were given by John V. Johnson, executive director of Mental Health Services of Southern Madison County.

Johnson was invited to Tuesday night's City Council meeting after aldermen questioned reports at a previous session concerning a Dec. 27 robbery in Granite City. A client of the agency allegedly was involved.

"WE HAVE BEGUN moving into the property at 622 Broadway which we rented Jan. 15," Johnson said.

"Two people are living there now and supervision is provided. When work on the house is completed, we will have up to six clients living there and more supervision will be available.

"I would like to invite the City Council to come and see the facility and meet the staff after a future council meeting," Johnson said.

"I'M NOT PUTTING too much stock in some of the phone calls I get, but I've been getting a few, saying there really is no supervision there (at the house)," Mayor Tyrone Echols said.

"They (callers) say that just a couple of phone calls a day are made," Echols said.

Johnson said that report was incorrect and said the robbery incident, allegedly involving an agency client, was the "first in the eight years since we've been providing this service.

"FOR CLIENTS to live in a residential facility they must have the ability to live without eyeball-to-eyeball supervision.

"During the day, they attend counseling sessions at our center, some go to Belleville Area College and others are at Specialized Services or other agencies.

"We have strict rules which they must abide by or forfeit the housing," the director said.

"IT'S A TRANSITION program through which we offer the client various kinds of services and housing for a period of six months up to two years.

"Then, they move out of our apartment and live on their own," the director explained.

"Do you supervise them in person there or is it done by phone?" questioned 4th Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr.

"WHEN THEY COME back to the home in the evening, there is always someone there," Johnson stressed.

"What concerns me is the lack of of supervision from 10 p.m. until 6 a.m. Why not have 24-hour supervision?" Valentine asked.

"Our plan now is to provide all-night supervision as soon as we furnish the home and the others move in," Johnson said.

"IT APPEARS to me that's got to be a must," Echols said.

"Since that one incident occurred, it has caused us to re-evaluate the supervision and we have asked the state for funds to provide night supervision," Johnson said.

Second Ward Alderman George Mangiaracino asked whether it would be cheaper if the state built homes for the clients, instead of renting residents.

"IT WOULD NOT be considered cheaper with the cost of constructing a building and staffing it," Johnson replied.

"My honest complaint only was the (lack of) night supervision," said Fourth Ward Alderman Charles Haynes.

Valentine suggested Johnson talk with Police Chief Farris Smith concerning the people living at the residence.

Warriors powwow

Football players want jerseys from board

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY - Wearing red and black letter jackets, a dozen Warrior football players blitzed the District 9 Board of Education on Tuesday. They came to urge the board to allow jerseys worn by the '86 conference champions to be kept by the players.

But the players were not guaranteed that the jerseys could be kept.

Instead, the board instructed the district's Policy Committee to take the issue up and eventually make a recommendation to the board.

But that decision was not made before players, board members and administrators argued the merits of allowing the players to keep their jerseys, which many players want because of the success of the football team this school year.

"They took the city and the world by surprise," said Lyn Votoupal, referring to the Warriors' win over the East St. Louis Flyers, rated the top high school team in the country. Votoupal is a parent of two players and is president of the Granite City Area Council of PTAs. She spoke on behalf of the players.

"I think it's time the school and the school board recognize this. It would be a gesture of pride ... to all team members," she said.

Votoupal said she was told by the Granite City Boosters that the Boosters would help the district replace the jerseys in order for the players to keep the ones they wore during the season.

Superintendent Gib Walmsley stuck by his earlier decision to support a decision made by high school principal Ken Spalding and athletic director Greg Patton not to allow the players to buy their jerseys from the district.

"They were absolutely correct

Plea for fun in Venice

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — A plea for more activities for young people living in Venice was heard at Tuesday night's City Council meeting.

"Our children are good children. Yes, they are; they just need something to do," Cynthia Crawford said in a letter read by Mayor Tyrone Echols to council members.

The resident was seeking council support for a proposal to open the Venice Recreation Center at night to give youth in the community a place to go.

CRAWFORD SAID she was driving with her daughters in the 1200 block of Klein Street about 9 p.m. Jan. 29 when she saw 10 or 12 youths standing in the roadway.

"It looked like my idea of a real gang," Crawford said.

"Thank God, I've never seen a gang in my life and I asked my daughters what in the world was going on. The boys were in a big circle, all huddled together," she said.

WHEN SHE recognized several boys, Crawford pulled her car over and asked the group what was happening.

"They spoke real nice to me. These boys did not curse and were not disrespectful in any way."

After they reassured her they were not planning to do anything wrong, Crawford said, the boys told her, "We're just hanging out because we have nothing to do and no place to go," she said.

"IS IT POSSIBLE to open the Venice Recreational Center on a nightly basis, so these boys will have somewhere to go?" she asked.

"They could come to the center and look at TV, listen to music, play pool or other games and be with their friends," the resident said, adding that a schedule of activities could be arranged on a nightly basis.

Crawford also proposed asking members of the Venice Board of Park Commissioners, Lions Club members and other concerned citizens to serve as chaperones at the center one night each week.

"IF YOU SHOULD see a group of boys together, stop and talk to them and tell them you're going to get something going for them. Let's call them

CALLUSES

Callus is a hardened buildup of dead skin cells because of recurrent pressure and friction. The elastic tissues of younger people are better able to absorb shock than those of older folks, who have more tendency for callus formation.

The podiatric exam looks for any circulation problems, neuritis or neurological disorders. A callused area that is red, sore or hot, or begins to drain, requires immediate care.

Podiatric treatment corrects friction with a prescribed orthotic device to relieve pressure. Thick calluses can be removed. Medications ease irritation, heal skin infection. Minimal-incision surgery can remove the basic cause of the callus and correct this irritation.

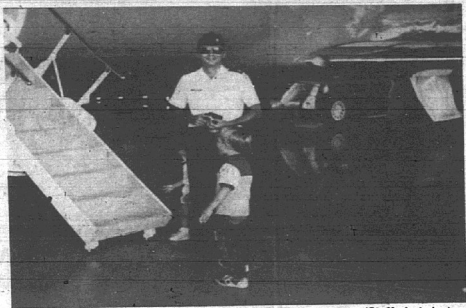
Frequent worldwide travel for pilot of Air Force Two

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer



(Staff photo by)

AIR FORCE TWO pilot Major Larry T. Klobe of Granite City stands in the shadow of the C-137 presidential aircraft at Andrews Air Force Base, Maryland. With him are his son, Joshua, 6, and niece, Kelly, 2½, daughter of Peter and Connie Mushill of Granite City, partially hidden by Klobe.

Ask any kid and he will tell you that one of the most glamorous jobs in the world is being a pilot. It really doesn't matter what kind of pilot — just flying an aircraft will suffice.

Larry T. Klobe of Granite City is a pilot and definitely has one of those glamor jobs. A strong dose of responsibility, however, goes along with the task.

KLOBE, AN EX-FIGHTER pilot, is a major in the United States Air Force. He also is the pilot of Air Force Two, a military version of a civilian Boeing 707 aircraft.

Currently, he is assigned to the 89th Military Airlift Wing at Andrews Air Force Base. The base, located in Maryland, is just outside Washington, D.C.

The mission of the 89th is to transport the president, vice president, secretaries of state and defense, members of Congress, foreign dignitaries and other high ranking civilian and military personnel, Klobe explained.

NOT MUCH STOPS the U. S Air Force, but recently the weather closed down Washington National Airport and a few other air terminals in the eastern part of the United States.

Klobe, who was traveling via a civilian airline from California back to Washington, found himself stranded overnight in St. Louis when his flight couldn't find a place to land anywhere along the Eastern Seaboard.

The Air Force major was lucky. His parents, Elmer and Lorene Klobe, reside at 2915 Sunset Drive.

OTHER FAMILY members also live in Granite City and, after a fast phone call, he was picked up and whisked over here by his brother-in-law, Peter Mushill.

Klobe returned recently from an around-the-world trip that transported a congressional delegation to the Philippines, Thailand, India, Nepal and Jordan.

He also has flown the vice president of the United States and President Corazon Aquino of the Philippines when the latter returned to her homeland following an official visit here with President Ronald Reagan.

THE PILOT IS close-mouthed about his official assignments. He was leaving on a special Air Force Two flight to an undisclosed destination in Europe the morning after his short visit here.

He did recall a humorous incident occurring during his recent trip to India when several members of the congressional delegation visited the legendary city of Katmandu in Nepal.

Few English-speaking people live in the isolated city located at the "rooftop of the world" in the Himalayan Mountains, near the border of Tibet and majestic Mount Everest, the delegation was advised.

IN KATMANDU, the American guests visited a large building where many young girls were industriously at work on colorful, handcrafted items, the pilot said. When the group entered the structure, the youthful workers stood in greeting and all began singing a Michael Jackson song to welcome their distinguished visitors.

"It was very unexpected. By the look on everyone's face, it was quite a shock," Klobe said.

The major has been flying for more than 16 years and has logged over 6,000 hours of worldwide flying time.

A FIGHTER PILOT initially, Klobe previously served in Korea for 12 months and at duty stations in many other areas, including Hawaii, Nebraska and Kansas.

He is married to the former Victoria George of Wichita, Kan. The couple has one son, Joshua, 6 years old.

Klobe graduated in 1965 from Granite City High School and from the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana in 1971. He started taking flying lessons and joined the Air Force shortly thereafter.

IN NOVEMBER, the major successfully completed a special and rewarding assignment. He was appointed general chairman of the 1986-87 Combined Federal Campaign at Andrews Air Force Base.

The month-long fund-raising drive resulted in the Air Force base goal of $189,589 being exceeded by $8,132. Agencies supported by CFC represented over 400 private, voluntary organizations, including the United Way of the National Capital Area.

"It was a rewarding experience," Klobe said.

The committee is seeking addresses for nine classmates.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of any of the following is asked to call a committee member. The committee includes Ted Mushill, 876-4994, Pat (Derrow) Cuvar, 931-3725, and Gloria (Albea) Knobeloch, 876-1198.

APA humane group needs newspapers

Old newspapers are needed by the Association for the Protection of Animals, a spokesman for the volunteer group said today.

"In the wintertime, we use many more papers on the floors for the dogs because the floors are cold," a volunteer said.

Persons wishing to donate newspapers are asked to bring them to the APA humane shelter at 5000 Old Alton Road or call 931-7030.

The animal shelter is operated by the non-profit organization to house abandoned, abused or unwanted pets.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

The Courts in this nation are frequently called upon to settle disputes involving religious matters. Two recent cases will help illustrate that the Courts are involved in resolving religious controversies.

In one recent case in Indiana, a divorced father petitioned the Court for more visitation with his son. He asked that he be allowed to pick up the boy on Friday evening rather than Saturday afternoon. A dispute arose over whether he would have to take the boy to Saturday morning catechism classes pursuant to the mother's wishes.

The request for more visitation was granted, but an Indiana Court of Appeals determined that the father would be required to take his son to the Catholic catechism classes on his visitation weekends. The Court noted that the mother, as custodial parent, had the right to determine the religious training of the child, and that this was the most important consideration. The Court further felt that the requirement to transport the child to the catechism classes did not unreasonably interfere with the father's visitation.

In another recent decision, a Federal District Court in Kansas was asked to determine whether or not an employer, a Food Service Company, discriminated against an employee on the basis of religion. The employee was a member of the Worldwide Church of God, and he refused to work on Saturday since thas was the Sabbath in his church. Title VII of the Civil Rights Act requires an employer to take reasonable steps to accommodate the religious practices of its employes.

In this case, the employer in 1981 initiated a six-day delivery schedule which included Saturday deliveries. At this time, the management and remaining employees agreed to accommodate the plaintiff's religious beliefs by allowing him to work as a warehouseman Monday through Friday. As a result of route expansion and injuries to other employees, several workers began to express resentment over his refusal to work Saturdays. In 1983, the worker was injured, and when he returned to work he was informed he would have to work an occasional Saturday. When he refused, he was terminated.

The Court determined here that the employer made reasonable attempts to accommodate the employee's religious practices. The Court felt that if the employer had continued to guarantee him Saturdays off, this would have worked an undue hardship on the company.

Residents angry about mental health client

Too much fuss is being raised about the man accused of robbing Schewe's Corner Confectionary, 2550 Grand Ave., Granite City.

The big concern for area residents is that he was a client of Mental Health Services of Southern Illinois Inc. The agency houses persons in the neighborhood where the alleged robbery occurred and some residents want the agency to close its doors.

After nine years of housing emotionally disturbed persons, Mental Health Services' reputation does not deserve the criticism it's receiving due to one police report. Though it may be politically popular to stand against the agency in this matter, as some have, the agency's record speaks well of its conscientious dedication to providing service to its clients while simultaneously safeguarding the community.

Naturally, any time there's a report of criminal activity the community should be concerned. But how that concern is voiced is another matter.

Days after the assassination of President Kennedy, and then Lee Harvey Oswald, Marianna Oswald was sent hundreds of letters of sympathy. Americans, kindhearted as always, realized she was innocent of any wrongdoing in the president's death and wanted to tell her so in that black hour of her life. The public was outraged about what her husband did, but there were no calls to deport her to her native country, Russia, or even to get her out of the neighborhood.

Should a pattern of neglect in the monitoring of its clients become provable rather than speculatory, this newspaper will add its voice to removing Mental Health Services from the community. But such a pattern hasn't been shown and we doubt it ever will.

We can and will second-guess

Like Monday-morning quarterbacks, it's not difficult to sit back and look at the controversy pitting some Warriors football team members against District 9 school officials.

The football players want to keep their jerseys following an exciting season that included finishing first in their conference and a victory over the nation's top-ranked team, the East St. Louis Flyers. They are willing to buy those jerseys.

Other District 9 teams have done better, as we know, and they've not been allowed to keep their jerseys. The logic is that because other teams haven't kept their jerseys, the football team shouldn't keep its jerseys. If one team does it, then they should all be able to do it.

The quick answer is that if all players want to purchase team jerseys then that should be allowed. The quick answer isn't a bad one, if qualified with an understanding that some players may not be able to afford to buy jerseys. We would not want to exclude any players.

If the district is interested in rewarding the football team by letting players buy jerseys, it should come up with a way to do so without excluding financially strapped team members. A better method may be found, but here's what might be a workable solution:

1) All those who want a jersey could sign their names on a petition and present the amount to a school official.

2) After determining how many want jerseys, the total cost of the purchase should be determined.

3) After determining the total cost, team members would be responsible for individually turning funds in to the school official. No players would know who was unable to pay because the official would keep the names confidential.

4) If after a set time, say two weeks, the fund was short, the school official would notify the team spokesman of the amount still needed.

5) The team members would have to come up with the difference or lose their right to the jerseys.

The point is that the team members should be given an opportunity to purchase their jerseys. How the district does it is up to the district, but the district should provide the opportunity.

The result would be another win for the Warriors without a real loss to anyone.

Illinois campaigns against AIDS

The Illinois campaign against AIDS is about to begin in earnest, and it has come none too soon. The latest report from the state Department of Public Health shows 303 cases diagnosed in 1986, a 70 percent increase over the year before.

The total number of AIDS cases to date — 740 — ranks Illinois sixth in the nation. And of those diagnosed as having AIDS, 399 have died. The most frightening statistic of all is that the number of cases is doubling every 10 months.

AIDS once was called an outbreak, but there is no question now that it is reaching epidemic proportions. It was once limited to homosexuals and drug abusers, but now it is spreading into the general population.

In response to demands for action, the General Assembly last year appropriated $2.3 million to be used in the fight against AIDS. This past week the state public health department announced its first allocations of those funds totaling $602,000.

A public relations firm in Chicago will receive $450,000 to develop a public education campaign, consisting of an AIDS resource center in Chicago (Cook County accounts for 83 percent of the state's cases); public service announcements featuring celebrities; media seminars, and a statewide AIDS Awareness Week in the spring.

The Illinois State Medical Society is getting $91,840 to educate 17,000 physicians through a series of four workshops.

And, the Illinois Alcoholism and Drug Dependence Association has been allocated $60,250 to reach out to 23,000 drug abusers, their families and friends.

How widespread is AIDS in the state? While the greatest number of cases is concentrated in Chicago, the rest of the state has not been immune to the disease. With statistics kept since 1981, the public health department reports that Cook County's total is 615 cases. Second is Du Page County with 14, followed by Lake County with 12, Madison and St. Clair counties with nine each, and Champaign and Kane counties with eight.

The number of cases already reported nationwide is not as alarming as the predictions of what is yet to come. The U.S. Public Health Service, in a five-year projection, estimates that by 1991 more people will die of AIDS than were killed in traffic accidents in 1985.

In addition, the health service forecasts that more than 270,000 people will be diagnosed as having AIDS by the end of 1991, of whom 179,000 will have died. More than 70 percent of AIDS cases will be among homosexual or bisexual men, the highest risk group. About 21 percent will be among drug addicts who use infected needles. The remaining nine percent will afflict heterosexual men and women.

Medical researchers are working day and night to find a cure for the illness or a vaccine that will prevent it. But they say that such developments are at least five years away. Even the public health service is extremely cautious in its projections for arresting the disease. Its timetable is to reduce the spread of infection this year, slow the increase in cases by 1990 and eliminate the spread by 2000.

As commendable as the state Department of Public Health's initiative against AIDS is, much more still needs to be done. A public information campaign, of course, is worthwhile, educating doctors will help in diagnosis and treatment, and reaching out to drug abusers may save some from the ravages of AIDS.

But with little hope of a medical breakthrough soon, the only really effective weapon we have is education — education that must begin in elementary schools, and then concentrate on secondary and higher education institutions where young people are at the age when they are most sexually active.

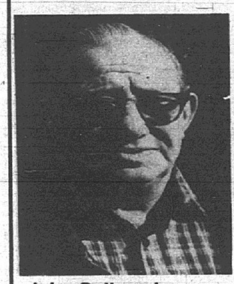
Automatic pay raise?

What do you think about the automatic $12,000 pay raise Congress gave itself at midnight Tuesday, which could have been avoided by a House vote to reject it?



John Pellazari, Granite City

"I think it's an awful lot, myself. They should give part of that raise to the senior citizens and the disabled."

Leonard Zotti, Granite City

"I can't understand why they're going to cut the amount of food they give to the needy and then give themselves a raise. They make more now than they deserve."

William Garris, Granite City

"I think it's ridiculous. I think they make too much money as it is. They're taking more money from the worker and making it harder to make a living."

Hiring procedure is entirely proper

To the editor:

Belleville Area College's hiring practices were unfairly criticized in a letter printed in this letters column Jan. 15.

Contrary to the letter writer's claim, the college did follow appropriate professional methods in selection of an English instructor for the Granite City Campus.

It is true the committee assigned to interview candidates was not unanimous in its recommendation. The final decision by the Board of Trustees was to hire the person who was recommended by the majority of the interviewing committee.

The trustee vote was as follows: Ayes, Robert Dintelmann, Leo Konzen and Larry Reinneck. Nays, none. Present, Elizabeth Jenner. Student trustee Susanne Briggs also cast her advisory vote "present."

Here are the facts about the selection process:

- Of the six finalists for the English instructor at Granite City Campus, all were qualified.
- None of the six would, or will, have to be required to complete additional course work.
- The process of hiring was beyond reproach. The make-up of the committee that conducted the interviews and made the recommendation included three instructional people and two administrators.
- We have nothing that would indicate that any of the six were not considered excellent teachers by their peers.

Many capable of living independently

To the editor:

Recently the clients served in the residential program operated by Mental Health Services, Southern Madison County, have been receiving considerable attention in the Press-Record and Journal. I believe it is important for the community to know more about our services for the mentally and emotionally ill citizens in the Granite City area.

Our agency works with a number of recovering and recovered mental health clients. One of the important ways to assure that these adults can develop the ability to live successfully on their own in the community is a supportive residential apartment where they can learn independent living skills.

Those selected for admission to these apartments must meet certain criteria and they must follow a treatment plan, which may include vocational rehabilitation and classes to develop social and other necessary skills. Those who have a history of anti-social behavior are excluded.

Many of these clients reach the goal of independent living in society. Those who do not may have to live in a more institutionalized setting where their needs are met or perhaps live under the care of relatives.

Since the 1960s, medical and psychiatric treatment advances for most types of emotional and mental illness have allowed clients to leave state hospitals and receive services in their own communities.

The Mental Health Code and governing laws were broadened to give mental health clients increased rights and protection, including rights to treatment in the community.

Recovered mental health clients are individuals. Their future potential depends on their particular talents, abilities, experience and motivation.

With treatment, supportive case management and counseling by mental health professionals, they can live very responsibly in the community, contributing to society by employment or following a prescribed course of treatment.

A client receiving quality care and supervision is more likely to make a better employee and neighbor than one who is not receiving adequate treatment.

Mental or emotional illness is basically an illness affecting the mind, and consequently every type of emotional illness is unique. It is important for a recovering client to be viewed as an individual and not as an anonymous member of a stereotyped group.

The image of a mental health client as dangerous to others and in need of constant surveillance is far from the truth. Unfortunately, there are a few clients who are known for their erratic and disturbing behavior, refuse treatment plans in the community, and pose problems for social agencies, mental health professionals and, at times, the police.

Individuals causing these problems require cooperative effort among the community agencies to meet their needs. All clients should not be judged on a few who act erratically in public.

The Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities funds community mental health centers to provide services to the chronically mentally ill. Very often the money to provide services in the community is not sufficient to meet the need.

More funds are needed for the community centers to provide all the support services required to serve clients in treatment programs. Our agency has been serving the community for over 25 years.

Centers like ours save the taxpayers considerale tax dollers, since it is much more expensive to serve clients in hospitals and more restrictive settings.

Without these services and adequate care, case management and supervision, many discharged patients would have to fend for themselves for housing and other services, increasing the financial burden of the Tri-Cities area.

It is important for all citizens, no matter what their illnesses — whether illness of the mind or emotions or any debilitating bodily function or trauma — that they be treated humanely with full protection of their rights.

It is important for the community and all our neighbors to know that Mental Health Services is concerned about your rights and peace of mind as we serve those who need our care and commitment.

Mark 8:37 "Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

Men and women are in pursuit of many things today. Fame and fortune seen to be at the top of the list. People seem to think, the more money they have, the happier they will be. Some pople take drugs and some drink. People divorce and remarry thinking a change of partners will bring happiness. Sometimes we sell our homes, quit our jobs and move to a different state looking for this elusive thing called happiness.

None of these things will bring a lasting peace to your life. When you become tired of searching, try Jesus. He came to bring peace. His love brings joy and happiness. He loves you so much that He died for you.

Try Him.

Weekly Health Tip

OUTDATED MEDICATION

Most medicines begin losing potency after about 5 years — vaccines are very perishable. Outdated drugs turn into chemically different substances and may become poisonous. A woman who took outdated antibiotic capsules developed a disorder in which the kidneys leak calcium, sugar and protein into the urine. Victims develop multiple fractures and waste away. Discard your medicines when they become out-of-date.

State pension changes voted

A bill making several changes in the public pension system, including increases for participants in the State Employee, State University and Downstate Teachers' Retirement Systems, has passed the House.

State Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City, chairman of the House Committee on Personnel and Pensions, said, "House Bill 2630 prohibts any further investment of state pension dollars in companies doing business in South Africa. This will show leaders of South Africa that the citizens of Illinois do not support their racial discriminatin policies. This action speaks loudly of Illinois' commitment to ending apartheid.

"The bill also contains numerous provisions affecting various participants in the system." The bill:

- Provides that a 3 percent cost-of-living increase for retired downstate police officers and firefighters begins at age 55 instead of 60.
- Provides a minimum annuity of $15 per year of services up to $450 for members of the State Employee, State University and Downstate Teachers Retirement Systems.
- Provides a monthly increase in annuity, as well as $1 times the years in receipt of benefits for members of the State Employee's, State Universities and Downstate Teachers' Retirement Systems whose benefits began before Jan. 1, 1977. This amounts to a $40-$45 per month increase in benefits for these individuals.
- Raises the cap on funds available for group health insurance to $20 million per year to enable the Downstate Teachers System to continue paying half of these insurance costs. This provides savings of up to $70 per month to participants.
- Provides for separate tax rates under the local tax levy to encompass the cost of federally-mandated Medicare for newly-hired certified school district employees.

"Increases in benefits were long overdue," Wolf said. "Many of the retirees have been living at or near the poverty level.

"The contents of this bill represent many hours of negotiation with the various organizations affected by the Retirement System. I am pleased that a compromise was reached and that the House approved the compromise."

Correction

•Annexation

Granite City halts annexation proposition

"but under present law, they really don't have a choice."

ORTBALS SAID he didn't know if city officials would proceed with annexation by petition.

"I don't know what to do," Ortbals said. "We've really haven't had time to think about it."

The proposed annexation areas included the Wilshire Manor, Steelecrest, Gorbe, Town & Country, Bellemore Place, Miracle Manor, Evergreen, and Greater Granite Heights subdivisions.

MOST OF THE area is in Nameoki Township. A small portion, bounded by Morrison, Pontoon and Nameoki roads, is in Chouteau Township.

"We're not trying to deprive the people of a vote," said Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs Sr.

Briggs said he believed there were also some minor discrepancies in the petitions filed.

Nameoki Township Attorney Irv Slate said, under the general election law, the annexation question cannot be asked if there are no candidates on the ballot. There are no offices being decided in the township in April, Briggs said.

Football players ask board for jerseys in stopping the sale of the jerseys," Walmsley said. He said there were numerous problems associated with letting the players keep their jerseys.

Though the football team raised money to buy the varsity jerseys now being used, the money was also raised by players from the 1985 team; letting the 1986 team keep the jerseys might not be fair, Walmsley said.

A "request for jerseys" statement issued to the board by the players stated that the team is also raising money this year to buy a new set of jerseys in the future.

The district also needs to study whether giving the jerseys to the players would be a violation of compensation rules outlined by the Illinois High School Assocation, said Walmsley.

He also expressed concerns about setting a precedent with other successful high school teams and with replacing all the jerseys, which would be necessary, he said, because those replacing the ones kept by the players would not match ones still in use.

"Are we prepared to do the same for other teams?" Walmsley asked.

Walmsley also compared the football jerseys with other school property that has been paid for through fund raising, such as weight room equipment and band uniforms.

Player Tim Davis asked Walmsley what he intended to do about several jerseys that were purchased before last week's decision was made.

"Those jerseys will be collected and the money returned," Walmsley said.

Walmsley and board members roundly praised the team for their successful season, but were concerned about being fair to other school teams.

"We've got to be even-handed," said board member Dewey Melton.

"If they go as far as we did, they deserve their jerseys too," one player commented.

Board member Monroe Worthen said he was less concerned about the cost of the jerseys than he was the fairness issue.

Member Alan Crider said other successful teams should be considered.

"I think it's important to recognize we've had a lot of championships," he said.

Board President Kelly Hogan commended the players who went to Tuesday's meeting.

"You are to be commended for approaching us in the right manner. They (team members) could have lied ... and said they lost (the jerseys)," Hogan said.

"The board is not saying 'no' to you tonight," he said.

Melton said he thought policies should be established about giving students district property before the board makes a decision on the issue.

Member Joann Macios said she would have preferred to let the players keep the jerseys but agreed to send the issue to the Policy Committee.

Walmsley and Hogan criticized a Granite City Press-Record/Journal editorial encouraging the district to give the players the jerseys. Walmsley said there was an innacurate statement made in the editorial and said the paper was trying to make decisions for the School Board.

No date was given on when the committee would offer a recommendation to the board.

together and ask them what they want to do. Let us ask them," Crawford said.

"Venice is a good city and you are a good mayor. Our children are good children. They just need something to do," Crawford said.

"The lady has a very good point and I'd like to go a little farther with it," 3rd Ward Alderman John Ervin said.

FOURTH WARD Alderman Charles Haynes concurred, saying, "We should contact the Park Board and see if we can get them to cooperate."

"I will meet with the park district and make them aware of your concerns," Mayor Echols said.

Class A power bunched up in southern Illinois

Saturday might have been the start of something big for high school basketball in southwestern Illinois.

For six years now, Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis has hosted the 7-Up Shootout on the Thursday before Christmas. Eight highly-touted high school teams — some from this area and some from other parts of the country — get together for a dandy quadruple-header.

This year, more than 9,000 fans jammed into Kiel to watch the event, which included a big win for Venice in the opening game. Jesse Hall was the outstanding individual player at the Shootout, as he scored 28 points to lead the Devils to a 59-44 win over West Frankfort.

But now, there might be something that Illinois fans can call their own. The setup is similar, with four games to be played in one day. But the event is held in Illinois, and all eight teams are from Illinois.

It's called the Superfan Spectacular, and it was held last Saturday at the Vadalabene Center on the campus of SIUE. There were almost 3,000 fans at the inaugural event, not bad for a first try.

The Superfan Spectacular is the brainchild of this area's self-proclaimed "superfans," Dennis Schickedanz and and Buddy Wolke. The two were teachers in the Alton school system in 1975 when Wolke saw a sectional championship between Teutopolis and Carmi. Wolke was so inspired by that game that he and Schickedanz decided to follow Illinois high school basketball on a regular basis the next year.

In the beginning, they chose certain teams to follow throughout the year, and they picked state champions in Madison in 1977 and Nashville in 1978. Eventually, they began just watching as many games as possible rather than concentrating on just one team. Most of the games they attended involved highly-ranked teams, and most of them were Class A games.

Wolke, who is still a math teacher at Alton High School, estimates he has seen more than 100 games every year, and has seen as many as 130. Schickedanz, now a collection manager at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Belleville, sees in the area of 70-80 games per year.

What began as a hobby has culminated in an organization that promoted two exhibitions this year and is hoping to add more in 1988. They earlier promoted the Southern Illinois Shootout at Belleville Area College, in which East St. Louis Lincoln smashed O'Fallon 70-39. A girls game was also included in that event.

But Saturday was the big day. It was certainly an attractive schedule. Four of the top 16 Class A teams in Illinois were on hand, including the featured attraction of No. 2 Venice and No. 7 Flora. No. 4 Martinsville, still unbeaten, faced No. 13 Okawville. Other games featured Madison vs. Pana in the opener and O'Fallon vs. Edwardsville in a Class AA matchup in the nightcap.

The Trojans got things off to a good start with an exciting start with a narrow 55-52 win over Pana. Madison started off nervous, but when the Panthers didn't put them away, they regrouped behind the strong efforts of Sean Mosby and Lamont Johnson to take a narrow lead late in the game. Johnson's free throws wrapped things up.

The second game was a possible preview of the Charleston

Trojans gang up to beat Roosevelt

By Gary King
Correspondent

SCORING
ROOSEVELT	12	20	13	9-54
MADISON	22	15	25	11-73

ROOSEVELT: Washington 6, Shaw 6, Smith 6, Addison 26, Collins 7, M. Washington 3.
MADISON: Johnson 16, McCarthy 8, Mosby 15, Ware 14, Sanders 11, Leonard 9.

MADISON — For most of the winter, Madison guard Lamont Johnson has been the horse that's pulled the Trojan attack.

Wednesday night, however, he was one of just six carriage pullers.

Johnson scored 16 points, blocked six shots and, most importantly, was allowed to slip outside of his normal role of scoring machinery as the Trojans thumped St. Louis' Roosevelt High by a 73-54 tune.

The win exemplified what Madison looks like when the throttle is down and all the cylinders are clicking.

"Tonight was a team effort," said Trojan coach Rich Essington. "The difference was we didn't play as five individuals tonight like I've seen us do in the past. Tonight, everybody fit into his role and we came together as a unit."

And it was Madison's unity that proved to be the best policy, as Roosevelt slid from a five-point halftime ditch into a 20-point third-quarter canyon before they could break a real serious sweat.

Then there were the Trojans, who didn't perspire. They stayed cool despite the sharpshooting of Roosevelt guard John Addison, whose 26 points were the only things that kept the Madison starters from enjoying a quiet night around the local water cooler.

A Gerald Collins jumper gave Roosevelt its only lead of the contest with 5:35 left in the initial quarter. Two minutes later, The Lamont Johnson show would open up an irreparable scoreboard gap.

Within a span of three minutes, Johnson scored six points, blocked three shots, pocketed two steals and basically prompted the fat lady to start clearing her throat.

When the dust settled at the end of the stanza, Madison held a 22-12 lead.

Point guard Sean Mosby, who collected 15 points and dished out a game-high six assists, hit the first three points of the second period to extend his squad's lead to 13.

Eight points by Addison late in the half trimmed Madison's bulge to 37-32 at intermission, but for the remaining 16 minutes of action Roosevelt could only eat the dirt left in the Trojans' offensive wake.

"They (Roosevelt) did a good job on us in the first half," Essington said. "We let their defensive press bother us a little bit, and they were able to get right back in it.

"But in the second half, we played much, much better. We played like we'll have to play from here on out if we want to go anywhere."

And where the Trojans went in the final 16 minutes of play was straight for Roosevelt's jugular, shutting down their inside and baseline offensive weaponry with a tenacious and unrelenting front-court press.

Behind an offensive spurt from sophomore reserve Jesse Leonard, who pumped in nine points in limited court time, the Trojans' 49-39 lead doubled in a span of 1:35 midway through the third quarter.

Roosevelt would never be able to catch their breath for the rest of the contest.

Long after the final buzzer had sounded, Johnson spoke of the progress he's seen in the Trojans' game over the past month. He also spoke of the relief that's accompanied it.

"At the start of the year, everybody was pretty much inexperienced," Johnson said, toweling sweat from his forehead. "Gary Stanley and I were the only ones with any varsity experience from last year. It was like everybody looked to us for leadership. But then when Gary quit, the job kind of shifted to me.

"At first we were making a lot of dumb mistakes. But now we're coming together. We're starting to do some things right. Like tonight, everybody got into it. We're starting to fill our roles a lot better as a team."

Filling the role underneath the basket was center Orlando McCarthy, who scored only eight points but managed to yank down a team-high nine rebounds.

But the biggest improvement in the Trojan game over the past month, according to Essington, is the play of forwards Otis Ware and Steve Sanders.

Wednesday night, Ware was responsible for 14 points — eight of which came in the first quarter — while Sanders dumped in 11.

"Sanders and Ware both played a good game tonight," Essington said. "They're really coming along well. They've improved a lot lately."

And with improvement surrounding him on all sides, it appears Johnson may be allowed to fit into his most potent role — that of a total player.

"Tonight, Lamont got us where we needed to go," Essington said. "He has the potential to be a great all-around player, and that's what he's going to have to do if we're going to go anywhere."

Granite City is next on the Trojan slate. Madison will visit Memorial Gymnasium for an 8 p.m. contest Saturday night.

"Just tell 'em we'll be there," Essington said, winking.

They'll be there, horses and all.

GIVE ME THAT BALL: Terri Selph of the Warriors pulls a rebound away from Belleville Althoff's Linda Rapp during Tuesday's game in Belleville.

Lady Warriors fall short, 55-48

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

BELLEVILLE - Close, but no cigar.

That would be the best way to describe the effort of the Lady Warriors' game at Belleville Althoff Tuesday night. Granite City stuck right with the Lady Crusaders for most of the game, but a brief lapse at the start of the third quarter cost them dearly, and Althoff hung on for a 55-48 win.

"Althoff had a little cold streak of their own in the second quarter, then we had one in the third quarter, and that was the ball game," said Warrior coach John Hutchings. "The first part of the third quarter cost us."

Even though the Warriors dropped their third straight game to fall to 5-15, Hutchings was much happier with the effort than that he had seen 24 hours earlier, when Granite City was crushed by Mascoutah, 56-17. The Warriors had no one with more than four points in that game.

"Compared to what we did last night, we're tons better," Hutchings said. "We're still making mistakes, but the difference in the girls the last two nights is like night and day."

Freshman Kim Pawlak continued to be a leader on offense for Granite City, pumping in 19 points, mostly on soft-as-a-feather jump shots from the wing. And Wendy Knollman contributed 15 points, including nine in a fourth-quarter comeback that just fell short.

Although Althoff led virtually the entire way, the first half was nip and tuck for the most part. The Crusaders' lead never got higher than six points despite the scoring of Kelly Longust, who scored Althoff's first 11 points and finished with 19.

It was 27-23 at the intermission, but things got worse once the third quarter began. The Warriors missed their first nine field goal attempts and fell behind 35-24 after a basket by Chris Albrecht. Knollman got things going with a couple of baskets, but Lisa Mueller connected twice in the last minute to up Althoff's lead to 43-31.

"That's been the story of our year," Hutchings said. "It takes us a while to get things moving sometimes. And against good teams, you can't afford to be spotting 10-point leads."

Albrecht's basket made it 45-31 at the beginning of the fourth quarter, but the Warriors began to charge back. Knollman and Pawlak brought the deficit to 10, then six points from Amy Cant made it 47-42.

Pawlak's jump shot made it 49-46 with 3:12 left, then Knollman made it a one-point game with 2:37 to go. Pawlak made a steal at the other end of the court, and here came the Warriors with a chance to take the lead.

Pawlak got the shot Granite City wanted, but it didn't fall and Mueller made two free

Warriors battle Kahoks, Trojans

Which Granite City team will show up Friday night?

That is the question that is burning in the mind of Don Deterding as he prepares the Warriors for a Southwestern Conference showdown with the Collinsville Kahoks at the Purple Palace (a.k.a. Fletcher Gym). Tipoff is scheduled for 8 p.m.

The Warriors were at their schizophrenic best last weekend in a pair of home games. Mr. Hyde showed his ugly face on Friday, when the Belleville Althoff Crusaders ran roughshod over the Warriors, 73-47.

But the good Dr. Jekyll made a welcome return on Saturday, when Granite City used a 36-point explosion from Jamie Hogan to take an 82-68 decision from Belleville East. The win left the Warriors at 12-6, but more importantly they are 5-0 in the SWC. They have now made one trip through the loop, and have to play each conference foe one more time — three of them on the road.

"There was just no comparison," Deterding said of the two Warrior squads he witnessed last weekend. "We played team basketball on Saturday night, and we certainly didn't do that Friday. The game with Althoff was identical to the ones we played against Mt. Vernon and Cahokia earlier. Maybe it's a good omen to get it out of the way."

Now it comes down to a big game between Granite City and Collinsville, like it has so often in the past. The Warriors are

GC wrestlers at regional this weekend in Cahokia

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Granite City will begin its quest to send more wrestlers to the state meet this weekend.

The Warriors will be competing in the Cahokia Regional on Friday night and again Saturday morning and afternoon. Also in the competition will be the host Comanches, Belleville East, Belleville West, Belleville Althoff, East St. Louis Lincoln, East St. Louis, Mascoutah and O'Fallon.

First, second and third place winners in each weight class will advance to sectional competition, which will be held in Granite City next week. Only the top team in total points will advance to the sectional.

The first session will begin at Cahokia High School at 6:30 p.m. Friday, with the regional continuing with sessions Saturday at 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Granite City's (19-3 in dual meets) chief competition in the regional should come from Cahokia and Belleville East. The Warriors beat both the Comanches and the Lancers in regular season dual meets at home.

The Warrior lineup for the regional figures to be as follows: 98 pounds, Brent Davis, 24-); 105, Rich Smallie, 6-8; 112, Bill Fitzgearl, 11-5-1; 119, Scott Moss, 16-11; 126, Rich Wilson, 21-9; 132, Tracy Morrison, 18-4; 138, Jon Morgan, 20-8; 145, Dave Knogl, 29-1; 155, Dan Grayson, 4-7; 167, Paul Brandt, 26-3; 185, Mike Lynch, 21-7-1; heavyweight, Terry Stanley, 5-2.

"I think Cahokia and Belleville East will be our toughest opposition in most weight classes," said Warrior coach Walt Whitaker. "Belleville West has some good balance, too, but they don't have the outstanding individuals. But they might place some in the sectional."

Whitaker said Davis, Fitzgearl, Wilson, Morrison, Morgan and Brandt had the best chances to take first place.

"If Knogl and Lynch give us a good meet, that might be what we need to lift us to first place," Whitaker said. "We're hoping to send quite a few to the sectional and also advance as a team."

The regional winner will join regional winners from Edwardsville, Centralia and Springfield Lanphier at the Granite City Sectional next week. The team sectional will be held Tuesday night, with semifinal matches beginning at 6:30 and the title match to follow.

The individual sectionals will be held in three sessions over the weekend, with sessions at 6 p.m. Friday, and 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Saturday. The Cahokia Regional winner will meet the Centralia Regional winner in one semifinal Tuesday, with the Edwardsville and Springfield winners meeting in the other.

The winner of the team sectional will advance to the state finals in Champaign Feb. 20-21. First, second and third place finishers in the individual sectionals will also advance to Champaign.

Skaters open playoffs on Monday

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

After finishing the regular season, the Warrior hockey team is ready for the playoffs.

Granite City begins its quest for a trip to the St. Louis Arena with a two-game, total points series against either John Burroughs or Hazelwood East on Monday night. Those two schools play each other tomorrow night in a first round game at the North County Ice Rink in St. Louis.

All other playoff action in the Mid-States Club Hockey Association will be across the river. The Warriors (15-5-1) will play at 7 p.m. Monday night at North County, with the second game of the series to be played at 10 p.m. Feb. 12 at Queeny Park.

In the two-game series, a win counts for two points and a tie counts for one point, so any team winning both games or gaining a win and a tie wins the series. If each team wins one game, overtime is played at the conclusion of the second game to determine the winner.

There are four first round games involving the league's wild card teams In addition to the John Burroughs-Hazelwood East match, Webster Groves plays Clayton, Chaminade faces Cahokia and Lafayette takes on Lindbergh. Those games will all take place this weekend.

The Webster Groves-Clayton winner faces playoff favorite CBC in a two-game series next week, the Chaminade-Cahokia winner faces Kirkwood, and the Lafayette-Lindbergh winner takes on Parkway Central.

Other two-game series involving second place teams and wild cards are Parkway West vs. Ladue, Fox vs. McCluer North, Vianney vs. Francis Howell and DeSmet vs. SLUH.

The winner of the Parkway West-Ladue series will meet the survivor of the CBC-Webster Groves-Clayton group in a two-game series next weekend in the quarterfinals. Other quarterfinals will pit the Fox-McCluer North winner against the survivor of the Granite City-John Burroughs-Hazelwood East group; the Vianney-Francis Howell winner vs. the survivor among Chaminade-Cahokia-Kirkwood; and the DeSmet-SLUH winner vs. the survivor of Lafayette-Lindbergh-Parkway Central.

After that weekend, there will be four teams left. The semifinals will also be a two-game, total points series, with games to be played at 6:45 and 8:45 p.m. Feb. 21-22 at Queeny Park. The winner of the Granite City bracket will face the winner of the CBC bracket, while the Kirkwood bracket winner will meet the Parkway Central bracket winner.

The playoffs will culminate at the Arena March 4. The third place game will be at 5:45 p.m., with the title game to follow at 7:45 p.m. Even though Granite City would likely have to meet CBC in the semifinal series, they would only have to advance that far to assure themselves of at least playing in the third place game at the Arena. The Warriors advanced to the title game in 1984 before falling to DeSmet.

Monday night, the Warriors ended the regular season on a down note with a 6-2 loss to Parkway Central at Queeny Park.

"We didn't play very well," said coach Garry Henson. "The team that didn't care to win showed up."

The Warriors fell behind 2-0 before Todd Hinterser tied the game with a pair of goals, one shorthanded. The game was still tied with four minutes to play, but Parkway Central exploded for four late tallies to blow the game open.

"It was a total collapse at the end," Henson said. "We just don't have the ability to come to the rink ready to play. There's nothing more I can do. I can't force intensity to come. There's only one team that can show up in the playoffs, and that's the one that wants to go to the Arena.

"I'll put the players on the ice that want to play, and those that don't will sit and watch with me. If they want to play, we have an excellent chance of making it to the Arena. If not, we'll go home early like we did last year."

Admission for all playoff games up until the semifinals will be $2. Admission to the semifinals at Queeny Park will be $3, and a $4 admission charge will be in effect for the games at the Arena March 4.

The Warrior junior varsity team, which has one regular season game left, will start the playoffs somewhere around Feb. 19, gaining a first round bye.

throws at the other end to give the Crusaders a three-point edge.

"I thought if we had gone ahead of Althoff and made them hurry, we might have come up with a steal," Hutchings said. "When they had the lead, there was no reason for them to hurry, and they were able to run their offense."

Pawlak had another chance to bring the margin to one point, but her jump shot went in and out, and two free throws by Christine Ysursa and a basket by Mueller wrapped things up for the Crusaders (9-10).

"If we could have gone into our man-to-man defense with a lead, things might have been different," Hutchings said. "But we're two games ahead of where we were last year, and there's a couple of more games we could have won."

Pawlak's continued hot scoring as a freshman makes Hutchings think she has a big future with the Warriors.

"If Kim continues to grow and play like she has, she could develop into the best girls player Granite City has had in a long time," he said. "And Wendy's offense tonight was a pleasant surprise."

The Warriors finish the regular season with a game at Alton tonight, then open the regionals at home against Triad on Monday.

"If we shoot well, execute and break their press a couple of times, we can give Triad some trouble," Hutchings said.

Super-Sectional to be held at Eastern Illinois' Lantz Gym March 10. The Red Devils came in with a 15-game winning streak, while Flora wanted to prove the deserved a higher ranking. Jesse Hall, not wanting to let the event pass by, came off the injury list to score 32 points, including three three-point shots. The Devils blew out to a 22-9 first quarter lead and never looked back in winning 71-58.

As it turned out, Hall didn't finish the night as the outstanding performer. Martinsville's Jeff Lauritzen was all over the place in scoring 36 points as the Bluestreaks outlasted Okawville in overtime, 65-63. Lauritzen, who led Martinsville to a narrow win over Madison two weeks ago, is a major college prospect.

The last game was surprisingly close, since O'Fallon is one of the area's Class A powers and Edwardsville has won only one game this year. The Panthers took a 54-48 decision to raise their record to 14-4, while the Tigers fell to 1-12.

The coaches all expressed satisfaction with the event, and most seemed to think they would come back if invited. There is still some work to be done. The pre-publicity was a little skimpy, but it should get better as the organizers get more experience. This could become Illinois' version of the 7-Up Shootout, and it could become even more attractive if the Shootout falls by the wayside.

The 7-Up Company was recently sold, and many of the employees involved in organizing the event are being transferred out of town. Unless someone else steps forward, or if another corporation assumes sponsorship, there is a chance the Shootout could go by the boards.

But for now, the Superfan Spectacular is very much alive, and the Vadalabene Center is a very nice facility.

The Spectacular also reinforced the notion that the balance of power in Illinois Class A basketball resides in the southern part of the state. The Chicago Public League teams and others still carry the weight among large schools, but most of the good small school teams are south of Champaign.

Providence-St. Mel was No. 1 among small schools before this week's poll, but they have lost three games. They impressed the big shots by winning the prestigious Pontiac Holiday Tournament, which featured a lot of Class AA powers. But the Red Devils have been very close to them in total points the past three weeks, and seem ready to take over the top spot.

Devil coach Clinton Harris said he is not worried about where the pollsters place his team, although you have to believe a No. 1 ranking would be a feather in his cap. But Harris is more concerned about taking the No. 1 position the way it is supposed to be done, by winning the state tournament in Champaign March 14.

Other teams like Martinsville, Flora, Teutopolis, Carmi, Okawville and Cairo are carrying the banner for Class A teams in our part of the state. Venice travels to Cairo Saturday night for another big test.

And although the northern teams still dominate the large school poll, we might have seen the eventual state champions in both classes do battle in Venice on Dec. 2. The only southern team currently rated in the top 16 is East St. Louis Lincoln. Wouldn't it be nice for the Red Devils and Tigers to bring the state titles back to our neck of the woods?

working on a seven-game winning streak against the Kahoks, and Deterding is worried that two things might catch up to him.

"I'm not only worried about the law of averages, but their pride as well," he said. "We've beaten them so many times in the last couple of years.

"But it will be a typical Collinsville team. They play real good defense and look for high-percentage shots. And they try to draw fouls because they're a good free throw shooting team."

And speaking of fouls, Deterding is hoping he can keep Tom Taylor around for most of the game.

"It seems like whenever Taylor gets in foul trouble and has to sit down, we get in trouble," Deterding said. "He's come out on a couple of occasions and we've almost lost big leads. He's a catalyst. He just needs to be smarter, because he can pick up four fouls in one half and none the next. He needs to be smart enough to avoid those third and fourth fouls."

Taylor is needed for defense and rebounding, but the offense is falling more and more into the busy hands of Tim and Jamie Hogan. They are now the top two scorers in the Southwestern Conference, with Jamie averaging 19.7 and Tim 17.8.

"The secret for us is to have Timmy play a good game," Deterding said. "If Timmy's going bad, we seem to stink up the place. It's hard for Timmy to accept when he's not scoring, but when he's doing the other things well, we're all right."

And Tim doesn't need to score big when his brother is pumping in 36.

"Jamie has been shooting well all year," Deterding said.

His .859 free throw percentage is second in the conference to Jon Sherry of the Kahoks, and he's fourth in rebounding with 7.2 per game. Taylor is second with 8.9 boards per game, and he's sixth in scoring with a 14.4 average. Tim Hogan leads the conference in assists with 114, while Jamie is third with 98 (5.4 per game). Jamie also leads the conference in steals with 66.

Collinsville has been a hot team lately. They've won five of their last six and are 5-1 in the conference and 9-8 overall. Sherry leads them in scoring with a 15.4 average and he's an 87 percent free throw shooter.

The Warriors will be right back in action Saturday night when they host Madison in a crosstown rivalry.

"The fact that Rich (Essington) is there makes it a little more special," Deterding said. "He was close to our team when he was out of coaching, so I'm sure it will be a big game for him."

Deterding has been pleased with the play of starters Eric Ryterski and Greg Lilley, and also sees progress from bench players like Kevin Sanders and Mike J. Wilkinson.

"Wilkinson is just a sophomore, and he was kind of thrown to the wolves early in the year," the coach said. "But he's starting to look more like a seasoned veteran."

Ryterski, meanwhile, played on a bad ankle last week, and Deterding is hoping his condition will improve during the week.

"He'll be a key this weekend with his rebounding," he said.

Warriors play Triad in first round

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Granite City will draw a tough opening-round foe in the Class AA girls basketball regional to be held at Granite City next week.

The Warriors will face Triad (15-6 as of last week) in the second game of a doubleheader on Monday, Feb. 9.

In the opening game, regional favorite Edwardsville (15-3) will face Roxana at 6:30 p.m. The Granite City-Triad game will follow at approximately 8 p.m.

Winners of those two games will meet on Feb. 11 at 7 p.m. for the regional championship. The winner of the Granite City Regional, plus winners of regionals in Cahokia, Belleville (West) and Jerseyville will advance to the East St. Louis Sectional to be played at East St. Louis (Sr.) High School Feb. 17-19.

The East St. Louis Sectional winner faces the Salem Sectional winner on Feb. 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the Benton Super-Sectional, with the winner there advancing to the state finals at the Assembly Hall in Champaign Feb. 27-28.

The Class A finals will also be in Champaign Feb. 26-28, with the girls season scheduled to finish earlier than it ever has. Previously, the girls finals had been held after the boys finals.

Pairings in the other three local regionals are as follows:

Cahokia: East St. Louis Lincoln vs. Cahokia and East St. Louis vs. Collinsville on Feb. 9. Winners will meet for the title Feb. 12.

Belleville West: Belleville East vs. O'Fallon and Belleville West vs. Belleville Althoff on Feb. 10. Winners will meet Feb. 12.

Jerseyville: Jerseyville vs. Wood River and Bethalto (Civic Memorial) vs. Alton on Feb. 10. Winners will meet Feb. 12.

The Cahokia Regional winner will meet the Belleville West winner in the first game at East St. Louis at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 17. The Granite City winner will face the Jerseyville winner at 8 p.m. The sectional championship game is Feb. 19 at 7 p.m.

Quarterfinal games will be played at Champaign at 9 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 1:30 and 3 p.m. Feb. 27. The semifinals will be Feb. 28 at 9 and 10:30 a.m., with the third place game at 6:30 p.m. and the title game at 8:15.

Class A

Madison will play Dupo in its first regional game at Brussels at 8 p.m. Feb. 11. East St. Louis Assumption and Alton Marquette open the regional with a game Feb. 9, with the winner playing Brussels at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 11.

The winner of that game will play the Madison-Dupo winner at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 12 for the regional championship. The winner of that regional will meet the Pittsfield Regional winner at Litchfield Feb. 17. The Hillsboro and Bunker Hill regional winners will also be at Litchfield, with the title game set for Feb. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The Litchfield Sectional winner will face the Mason City Sectional champion at Carlinville at 7 p.m. Feb. 23.

Class A quarterfinal games will be played at Champaign at 1:30, 3, 6:30 and 8 p.m. Feb. 26. Semifinals will be at 6:30 and 8 p.m. Feb. 27, with the third place game at 1:30 p.m. Feb. 28 and the title game at 3:15.

Regional pairings are made in the IHSA office and reflect the voting of the coaches in each regional in the seeding of the teams assigned to the respective regional. These meetings were conducted statewide the week of Jan. 5.

Defending Class A champion Teutopolis is gunning for its fifth straight trip to Champaign. Each of the five top-rated small school teams has a good chance of reaching the Assembly Hall. No. 1-rated Piper City could meet the Lady Wooden Shoes in the semifinals. No. 2 Carthage (Hancock Central), No. 3 Litchfield and No. 4 Elgin (St. Edward) are all in the lower bracket. Litchfield and Hancock Central could meet in the quarterfinals, with the winner to meet St. Edward in the semifinals.

In Class AA, powerhouse Chicago Marshall and No. 2 Peoria could meet in the large school championship.

County population growing

Madison County on Jan. 1, 1987, had an estimated 253,200 residents, up 5,509 or 2.2 percent from the 1980 census tally of 247,691.

A study completed by the staff of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, the St. Louis area council of governments, showed the population of the two-state St. Louis region to be 2,402,200 as of Jan. 1.

EACH YEAR, the Council prepares the estimates for use in various planning, environmental and transportation studies.

According to the new study, the population of the bi-state area has grown by 78,357 persons or 3.4 percent since 1980.

The census set the population count at 2,323,843.

THE POPULATION estimates are derived from several major indicators of demographic change, and reflect a combination of trends in employment, school enrollments, households, births and deaths.

With the exception of school enrollments, all the indicators studied suggest that this region's population is increasing.

Employment has risen strongly since 1983, when a strenghthening of the economy brought about a partial recovery from the recession.

During this post-recession period, both basic industries, such as auto, aircraft and food manufacturing, and non-basic industries, including businesses and services, have, with minor exceptions, remained relatively healthy.

GROWTH IN NUMBER of households has paralleled the employment trends. Both births and deaths have increased continually since 1984.

Conversely, school enrollments have continually declined since 1980, reflecting: age-structure shifts, such as the maturing of the "baby boom" population; a slight drop in nationwide fertility, meaning reduced births among women 18-44 years of age; and household structure changes, such as delayed marriages and an increasing proportion of single-person households.

Among the individual counties, all but the City of St. Louis and Monroe County, Ill., show a population gain since 1980.

ST. CHARLES County leads the growing counties with a net gain of 38,600 persons. Closely following is St. Louis County, with a population increase of 30,000.

The other double-digit gain is recorded by Jefferson County, with a 13,600 increase in population over the 1980 census count.

Franklin and St. Clair indicate gains of 6,100 and 1,800 since 1980.

The City of St. Louis shows a population loss of 17,200 and Monroe County retains its 1980 level.

WHILE THE CITY of St. Louis is shown to have lost 17,200 persons since 1980, a more detailed analysis indicates most of the loss occurred in the early 1980s and that recent population losses, if any, are very small.

"While it is difficult to say with certainty that the city is beginning to regain lost population, a more conservative observation would be that the trend of population loss appears to be ending," a spokesman said.

A more detailed report on the 1987 population estimates will be made to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board of directors at its meeting on Jan. 28.

Current population estimates are also being prepared for all municipalities with a 1980 population of 10,000 or more.

Bill requiring smoke detectors reintroduced

SPRINGFIELD — Firefighters are expected to back another attempt to pass a state law requiring smoke detectors in all dwellings, the measure's sponsor said.

Rep. John Matijevich, D-North Chicago, reintroduced a mandatory smoke detector bill similar to his bill of last year which failed to pass by only three votes in the House.

Matijevich said fire chiefs, firefighter unions, the state fire marshal and other groups "are going to put on a real push this year."

Inexpensive smoke detectors have been credited with saving lives in many fires.

"I think with that coordinated effort we should do a better job and pass it this year," Matijevich said.

The new bill make some changes in the previous bill to meet objections of the Illinois Realtors Association.

Matijevich's bill would require:

- Installation and maintenance of smoke detectors in all new and substantially remodeled dwelling units at the time of first occupancy.
- All other existing dwelling units to have smoke detectors installed by July 1, 1988.
- Smoke detectors installed in rental units by the landlord, but maintained by the tenant.
- Operating detectors placed within 15 feet of every room used for sleeping purposes and on each occupied floor of a dwelling.
- A misdemeanor penalty of fines up to $500 and/or jail up to six months for failure to install required detectors.
- A felony carrying up to three years in prison and/or up to $10,000 in fines for someone other than the dwelling owner, for deliberately tampering with or destroying installed smoke detectors.

Citizens of Year named

Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 has announced the first annual "Citizens of the Year Banquet and Award Ceremony." The event will be held at the Elks Lodge, 1329 Niedringhaus Ave., on Wednesday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m.

First recipients of the award will be Nelson Hagnauer and Ron Yates.

The Elks formed a selection committee to observe and evaluate citizens who "live in the jurisdiction of the lodge, who have shown leadership in the community, who have contributed time and effort, and who have shown themselves to be outstanding, all-around American citizens."

A spokesman said each honoree "distinguished himself in his own way, Yates in education and coaching and Hagnauer in serving in township and county government. The achievements and accomplishments for each of these two professional people are too numerous to list now, but will be included in the program that evening."

Yates is the Granite City High School football coach. Hagnauer is chairman of the Madison County Board and supervisor of Granite City Township.

Admission to the March 11 event will be a donation of $10. The profits generated will be contributed to the Elks Lodge 1063 scholarship fund, which each year will award a cash scholarship to a student from Granite City, selected by the scholarship committee.

The amount of tickets available for this function are held to 200 due to limited space at the lodge. Tickets are available by calling the Elks at 876-9530; Jim McKechan, chairman of the "Citizen of the Year" program, at 797-1900; or Don Watson, chairman of the scholarship committee, at 877-3000.

The biggest part of feeling good is looking good.

The first step towards total well-being, in today's health-oriented society, is feeling good about yourself.

At both ends of the age spectrum, there are countless influences emphasizing appearance. Young people are seeking peer acceptance while older individuals strive to look as good as they feel despite their age. But some things simply cannot be done alone.

At St. Elizabeth Medical Center, our cosmetic surgery program will help make those subtle changes you've been thinking about.

Safe, convenient and affordable, our experienced, board-certified plastic surgeons have successfully performed thousands of cosmetic surgeries including:

- body contour

- face peel
- chin surgery
- eyelid surgery
- nasal surgery
- lipolysis/suction assisted lipectomy

as well as other reconstructive procedures.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center offers you the utmost privacy, with many procedures being performed on an outpatient basis while others require only an overnight stay.

But whatever the procedure, you can depend on St. Elizabeth Medical Center's decades-old tradition of quality and commitment.

BRING YOUR INNER BEAUTY TO THE SURFACE.

Call St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 798-3013 for more information on the cosmetic surgery program.

Chiropractors present programs for secretaries

The Granite City Association of Educational Office Personnel met Jan. 26 at Parkview School, with President Arlene Haldeman presiding.

The date for Bosses' Night has been set for April 2, the president said.

Lucille Caban commented on an Illinois Association of Educational Office Personnel conference that will be held in Decatur March 27-29 at the Holiday Inn.

Due to a previous commitment by Bowland, the February meeting place has been changed to Berta Milianis' home.

The program was presented by Dr. C.A. Rapoff and Dr. W.B. Heidke, local chiropractors. Their office treats muscular and skeletal conditions involving the mechanics and structural parts of the body. After presentations by both doctors, questions and answers followed.

Some concerns of those present were pinched nerves, slipped discs, calcium deposits and exercise. The group was interested in ultra-sound treatment for calcium deposits; it is being used for kidney stones and in the future may be a treatment for gallstones, the speakers added.

They said their offices also stress patient education — explaining their findings, the method of treatment and what the patient can expect.

Those attending were Nancy Rosales, Wanda Page, Lee Guenther, Marcella Pilcher, Dorothy Larner, Michelle Haldeman, Arlene Haldeman, Irene Williams, Berta Milianis, Marge King, Louise Moad, Pat Uzunoff, Barbara Schreiber and Lucille Caban.

Hostesses were Marge King and Irene Williams.

Q. With the lower interest rates for home mortgages my wife and I are considering refinancing our home. However, a friend urged us to get additional information before we make this move. Can you shed any light on refinancing?

A. Your friend was right in telling you to be certain you know what you are doing before refinancing. With the new lower mortgage rates, refinancing could save you a considerable amount of money or could end up costing you. Here are some general guidelines for helping you make a decision. Don't refinance if you plan to move within 18 months. It might take that long for the lower monthly payments to make up for the closing costs on the new loan. Don't get a new loan unless the new rate is at least two to three percentage points better than your current loan. Find out whether there is a prepayment penalty on your current mortgage. Fixed-rate mortgages usually have penalties for the first few years while adjustable rates seldom do. If you meet these criteria and are in a lower tax bracket, it would probably pay to refinance. Generally speaking, the higher your tax bracket, the less a high interest rate will hurt you.

"34 Years of Quality"

One out of ten women will develop breast cancer.

Perhaps the two most frightening words to a woman are breast cancer. The number one killer of females, breast cancer is a disease caused by uncontrolled growth of abnormal cells in the breast tissue. But with detection, effective treatment can be started immediately, therefore improving the patient's prognosis. The survival rate among women who find cancer before it is noticeable is 97 percent.

To answer the need for early detection of breast disease, St. Elizabeth Medical Center has established the Breast Diagnostic Program, which provides mammographies at almost half the cost of such procedures being done elsewhere. A convenient diagnostic procedure, a mammogram provides patients with high quality, high sensitivity images with minimal radiation exposure.
(Physician referral is necessary)

Following the guidelines by the American Cancer Society, this simple, painless exam is currently the best method of detecting breast disease. The ACS recommends all women age 35 to 40 have an initial, routine mammogram; diagnostic exams periodically between age 40 and 50; and yearly exams after age 50.

How many will detect it in time?

If you're a woman age 35 or older and would like more information, call SEMC's

In Memoriam 480

IN LOVING MEMORY OF KEVIN L. BURCH ON HIS 27TH BIRTHDAY BORN: FEB. 2ND, 1960

Nothing can make up for the absence of someone whom we love, and it would be wrong to try to find a substitute; we must simply hold out and see it through. That sounds very hard at first, but at the same time it is a great consulation, for the gap, as long as it remains unfilled, preserves the bonds between us. It is nonsense to say that God fills the gap; he does not fill it, but on the contrary, he keeps it empty and so help us to keep alive our former communion with each other, even at the cost of pain.
MacMillan/R.W.M.

SADLY MISSED BY ALL WHO KNEW HIM.

IN LOVING memory of Joseph Rice, February 6, 1986. His smiling face and pleasant voice are a pleasure to recall; he had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all. Some day we hope to meet him; some day we know not when, to clasp his hand in the better land, never to part again. Sadly missed by wife, daughter, grandson and all who loved him.

In loving memory of Anna M. Seneczyn, Feburary 7, 1985 brings sad memories of our loved one going to rest. She will never be forgoten by the ones who loved her best.
Sadly missed by sons, daughters, grandchildren, great grandchildren and friends.

IN LOVING Memory of my dear grandson Phillip Barr Jr., Feb. 4, 1977. You will always be in my heart because I love you so dearly, but God loved you best. Sadly missed Grandma Weidner.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Charles Achor Jr., Feb. 3rd, 1981. Missed by Wife and Family.

WE WISH to thank our relatives, friends, and neighbors for the messages of sympathy, floral tributes, memorials, cards and food. We would like to especially thank Pastor Fielding, Hope Lutheran Church Women's League, also Belleville Nursing Center, Dr. Biedenharn, Hyatt and Vakassi. Nurses of St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville. Our many thanks to Employees and Business Associates of Holten Meat Company, pallbearers, and Irwin Chapel for their kindness and concern shown during our recent loss. The Family of Florence Holten.
